

24 March 2020

Dear parent(s) / carer(s),

With the changes to movement published last night we have had to consider the distribution of exercise books once again. The original plan was to allow collection of books next week, once they had all been collated in a central location. To respect the current lock down and to protect all members of our community from any risk of contamination we will not be allowing books to be collected at this current time. Should restrictions be lifted we will of course review this once again and contact you with more information. In the meantime please encourage your child(ren) to access the work being set and marked on the different google classrooms.

As you also are aware, we are still open for some children, those identified as meeting the criteria by the government, but due to the restrictions on movement and again in an effort to minimise cross contamination we are operating with a very limited number of staff in school on a daily basis; staff are coming in on a rota basis. All staff will still be accessing emails but at this time we cannot guarantee to take phone calls straight away; please as always bear with us on this.

In terms of exam results, we have not had further information yet from the exam boards or Ofqual, but we are planning to collect the most recent predictions and assessments from staff shortly so that we are well prepared when we need to pass on any required information. Again, I will keep you posted as things develop in the coming weeks.

Please take care and stay safe.
